MODULAR SYSTEMS

Modular systems provide a highly-flexible, readily-customisable way of building permanent or temporary structures for application of all types.
They can be used to construct eye-catching exhibition stands, pop-up stores, branded display areas, furniture, workspaces, signage and much more.
We have been developing our range of modular solutions for over 30 years, designing well over 100 unique aluminium profiles to ensure that we can engineer systems capable of delivering the functionality and creative flexibility our clients require.
Our modular systems have been presented with multiple awards for their versatility and have been granted several patents for the originality of their design.
